What do you want for fall?

We asked dozens of New Yorkers and tracked down their dream items.
By Rachel LeWinter

"If I could only buy one new shoe for fall it would be the over-the-knee flat boots. I know they are the newest thing, but I just really like the way they look. I'd probably spend up to $200 on them."

Caroline German, 25, unemployed, Gramercy

Steve Madden Blondee suede boots, $130, at Steve Madden, 720 Lexington Ave at 58th St (212-888-8919)

"I want a cropped leather bomber jacket that crosses over diagonally in the front. I feel like it keeps coming back every season, so I would get a lot of wear out of it."

Maureen Dyer, 20, sales/merchandising assistant, Chelsea

H&M cropped jacket, $50, at H&M (various locations; visit hm.com for info)

Hat Attack velour felt pleated cloche with tortoise ring, $135, at Betsy Bunky Nini, 980 Lexington Ave between 71st and 72nd Sts (212-744-6716)

"I want a fitted cloche hat, like the ones worn in classic movies in the '20s and by stars like Bette Davis and Greta Garbo. I just love hats and all the ones I have are old—which is funny, because these are technically old too, but just really classic and stylish."

Francella Chisholm, 50, legal secretary, Bergenfield, NJ

"I want boyfriend jeans. Menswear is definitely my favorite new way of dressing. Men's clothing is all about fit and structure, plus it's really comfortable. I'd spend between $50 and $100 on jeans."

Julia Wideman, 23, marketing, Tribeca

Heritage 1981 frayed Boyfriend denim pants, $30, at Forever 21 (various locations; visit forever21.com for info)

"Moccasin booties: it's my favorite new trend of the season, and I like that world-traveler look."
